WORK PROGRESSES RAPIDLY ON SAN PABLO AVENUE

LETTUCE CONSIGNMENTS INDICATE HUGE INCREASE

BIG SHIPMENTS TO POINTS IN EAST EXPECTED

Demand For Product In Boom; Ice Weighs In At Over 15 Tons

Large lettuce shipments from San Pablo to Eastern cities have gotten under way, with one car already on the road and another in the process of loading. Demand in Chicago and New York markets for Contra Costa lettuce has shown a huge increase this year, growers reported yesterday, and the acreage devoted to raising the vegetable is also on the boom. It is estimated that from 50 to 100 cars will be sent out during the season.

328 Crates In Cars.
Each car carries 328 crates packed with special regard to preserve the freshness of the product.

When the lettuce is brought in from the fields it is removed from the cases and stripped down to the head. It is then packed in oil paper and takes 40 pounds to the crate. Thirty pounds of ice is put in each crate to insure its arrival in Eastern markets in good condition. 7500 pounds of ice is placed on top of the crates when they are stored in the refrigerator car, which requires 5 tons of ice in the bunkers, a total of over 15 tons of ice.

iced In Transit.
The cars are iced over five different times between the shipping point and Chicago, the destination of the first car which got under way yesterday.

Chamber of Commerce pictures were taken of the packing processes in San Pablo yesterday.

REALTOR CHIEF STRESSES FAIR SALES DEALING

"A man who builds his fortune on the losses and disappointments of his customers does not belong in the real estate business," stated Stephen Barnson, state real estate commissioner, who addressed the Contra Costa county real estate board last night at the Hotel Carquinez. Throughout his talk, Barnson stressed the importance of honesty and fair dealings, and indicated that the new laws referring to the activities of real estate brokers would be enforced rigidly by his office.

HOW MONEY GROWS

It is really wonderful how interest, added to regular deposits even small ones, will make a man a millionaire. The attractive interest now paid by Building and Loan Associations, which are under state supervision and as strong and safe as anything can be, offers unusual opportunity to those who want to get ahead. C. C. Health Boards To Be Unified Under Single Agency

Richmond Health Center To Be Maintained As Separate Unit

Establishment of a unified County Health Department, which will receive financial assistance from the Rockefeller Foundation and the State Board of Health, was ordered yesterday by the Board of Supervisors at a special meeting in Martinez.

Authority to organize the department, which will unite all public health service agencies in the county in one department, was authorized by the supervisors in passing a motion by Supervisor C. H. Hayden.

Social Center Separate.
In approving the formation of the department, which will be under the direction of the Rockefeller Foundation and State Board of Health, the supervisors announced that the Richmond Health Center would be maintained as a separate unit. Dr. C. S. Abbott and Dr. W. C. Cole of Richmond, appeared before the board and urged continuation of this agency.

With authorization for the new department voted, actual organization of the unit by the two participating agencies will be put under way rapidly. The board designated T. B. Swift, treasurer of the Contra Costa Public Health Association, as its observer on the new project.

Finance Explained.
Under the plan presented by the state board and the Rockefeller Foundation these two agencies will contribute $2500 each annually toward maintenance of the department while the county will contribute $5000. The organization will be conducted on approved scientific lines designed to promote public health in the many phases that question assumes.

Dr. Blake Maintained.
Naming of employees will rest with the participating agencies. Board members asserted that continuation of Dr. C. R. Blake, county health officer, as physician of the new department would meet with its approval.

Assault Charge Suspended For Two Youths

On the recommendation of Deputy District Attorney Hiram E. Jacobs, the charges of criminal assault against Charles Actis and Caesar Bertone, local pugilists, were reduced to simple assault and they were given a six months suspended jail sentence in Justice of the Peace John Roth's court yesterday. Charges against Joe Verneti and Louis Galletta, also implicated, were dismissed.

The youths were taken into custody July 4 following complaints of Mrs. Mabel Bell, of Oakland, and Mrs. Violet Lmas, of El Cerrito, that they had been attacked following a drinking party which ensued after the youths had taken the women home from a dance in East Shore park.

The complaining witnesses did not appear in court yesterday. Jacobs declared that he favored a reduced sentence in order to break up "this gang of boys", and placed the responsibility for their actions on bad companionship.

Judge Roth censured the pair strongly and warned that they may be committed on the jail sentence any time within two years, if they stray from the "straight and narrow."

Action Taken To Oust 'Ma' From Any Part In Work Of Temple; Mrs. Kennedy Wroth

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, July 28.—Attorneys engaged by a group of 150 officials of Angelus Temple today demanded a church reorganization which would remove Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of Aimee Semple McPherson, the evangelist, from any part in the management.

A statement intimating that court proceedings to remove Mrs. Kennedy would be resorted to if necessary was issued by the law firm of Loewenthal, Lissner, Roth and Gunter, representing the group which Mrs. McPherson has declared herself "in complete sympathy."

Remove "Ma" Kennedy
The statement of the attorneys included the declaration that: "The Echo Par evangelistic Association (the corporation holding Angelus Temple) holds much property, and contributions that have been made to the temple are in substantial sums. Mrs. Kennedy always, has assumed charge of all business affairs and has persistently refused to give the membership any information."

"Treated Like Dog"
Yesterday Mrs. Kennedy declared she would not have treated a yellow dog as her daughter had treated her. She also said she had never been able to get the truth about her daughter's famous disappearance.

Last night Mrs. Kennedy visited her daughter's home for a secret conference. Today, Mrs. Kennedy, sitting alone in her home, said grimly:

"I'm just waiting—waiting." "God is outlining a new career for me. I am ready to be led by him. I am winding up my affairs at the Temple."

Later today Mrs. Kennedy told her daughter over the telephone: "I will not budge an inch toward turning the Temple over to (Continued on Page 8.)"

Thousands Are Killed In Earthquake

News Of Tremor Of Last May Delayed Long By Wide Devastation

LONDON, July 28.—One hundred thousand persons are believed to have perished in an earthquake in Kansu province, China, on May 23 last, according to a sensational dispatch to the Westminster Gazette from its correspondents in Shanghai. The news was just received, the delay being caused by a complete breakdown of communications in the devastated area.

Three cities are reported to have been wiped out by a moving mountain.

SPAN HEARING IS POSTPONED

On stipulation of attorneys for the rival concerns, the Board of Supervisors yesterday postponed hearing of the applications of the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, Inc., and the Richmond-San Rafael Ferry Company for a franchise to construct a $15,000,000 toll bridge joining Contra Costa and Marin counties, setting October 3 as the time to fix a definite date for resumption of testimony. The hearing had been scheduled for yesterday, but attorneys for the two companies said officials of the concerns are in the east and would be gone for several months.

The board also voted to appoint a physician next Monday on a full time basis, to be hired by the county to do work in the Health Service. Dr. C. L. Abbott of the Richmond Health Center and Dr. Walter C. Cole of the same service, gave short talks on the work of a health officer and the things that he has to deal with.

Kiwanians Cautious
W. L. "Doc" Seawright, mentor for the Kiwanis aggregation, met the proposal with a subtle diplomacy that evinced his long experience in the deadly results of a snappy answer to baseball fiends and owners of "yaller" dogs whose rights have been imposed upon.

And the result of it all is: the game's to be played off this afternoon at 5:30 at the First street ball park.

Gems Stolen
During his last visit to Martinez, Watson declared, two guns, a gold inlaid pistol and a composite rifle of his own manufacture, were stolen from his collection of arms. Both guns, he said, have plainly distinguishing marks.

On another occasion, the ex-army man declared, several hundred pounds of explosives, together with fuses and caps, which he had stored in a field near his home, were stolen.

Invented Fuses.
Watson declared that four of the five types of fuses used today on American naval vessels are his invention. He invented also, he said, the detonating fuse that made possible the successful bombing of battleships from the air. Detonating fuses that he invented, he said, were used in the bombing of the German cruiser Ostfriesland and an American cruiser, both of which were sunk off the Virginia capes several years ago.

Explains Uses.
His detonating fuse, the major said, permits the concentration of power in a bomb whereas equipped with fuses of other types bomb's power is dissipated through being spread mushroom fashion, thus diminishing its deadliness. (Continued on Page 8)

"Comedy Of Errors" To Be Played Off Today By Lions And Kiwanis Clubs

LIONS MUSTER FORCES FOR HECTIC BATTLE; KIWANIS RELUCTANT TO DISCLOSE TOUR DE FORCE

Prominent members of Lions-Kiwanis aggregations spill advance dope on terrific apple spearing contest today at First street ball park.

Art Farris, on the mound for the Lions, "Watch me wind up—WUCH!"

"Tear N. Calfee, Lions' umpire, "Where's that ambulance?"

Dr. R. R. Root, Kiwanis star, "Is this a ball game or a massacre?"

Dr. G. A. Boehmer, Lions' short, "Put another board in that fence every time I get up to bat."

W. L. "Doc" Seawright, Kiwanis Strongheart, "I like Little Tim Juana myself."

With the avowed intention of knocking their rivals for a circuit trip, the Richmond Lions club yesterday roared out in the open, challenging the Kiwanis club to an immediate game with the old American apple, to settle thereby the question of supremacy in the gentle art of umpire killing.

Kiwanians Cautious

MONDAY TO SEE BUS OPERATING DURING PAVING

Wearing Service To Be Put Down; Gutters To Be Laid

The Key System Transit bus, put on San Pablo while the east side of the avenue is being paved, will start operating next Monday, it was stated yesterday by E. A. Hoffman, city engineer. The bus will run from Nichol Park to Alvarado Park and return, giving twenty minute service, connecting with the street car at the switch at Nichol Park.

Rails To Be Torn Up.
The bus will continue to run until the date set for the hearing of the Key System's petition to abandon its cross town lines next month. Meanwhile the rails on San Pablo will be torn up from Macdonald avenue to McBride avenue and the trolley poles removed. It is estimated that this work will take two or three days.

Work on San Pablo was reported as progressing rapidly by Hoffman. The water company yesterday started installation of a 12 inch main to be laid from Macdonald to the city boundary.

Place Wearing Service.
Work will be started today on the two inch wearing surface on the avenue, following completion of the base on the street from the city boundary line to Kevin avenue.

With the trolley line out, work will start immediately on the laying of curbs, gutters and sidewalks on the east side of the avenue, Hoffman said. This part of the job will probably be begun next Thursday or Friday.

Inquest In Tule Murder Looms
With the coroners of Contra Costa and Alameda counties maintaining that the case falls in the other's jurisdiction, efforts were reported under way yesterday to bring about an inquest into the "tule murder" of Bessie Loren, Oakland nurse, portions of whose dismembered body were found in widely separated parts of the two counties two years ago. Coroner Audrey Wilson of Contra Costa interviewed yesterday afternoon by Oaklanders, held that the case falls within the other's jurisdiction. Contra Costa police officials are outspoken in support of Wilson's attitude that if an inquest is held it properly should be conducted in Alameda.

The mother of the slain girl, it was reported today, recently collected $1000 insurance although a death certificate has never been issued.

NEW TAXATION IN THE OFFING

GLENDAL (Cal.) preacher sprained a muscle while gesticulating during a sermon the other day and has applied to the State Industrial Commission for compensation.

Herein is illustrated one of the growing dangers—and evils—in modern thinking, and it is not confined to the pulpit either.

People are today solving problems altogether too much by their arms—and feet.

They are putting calluses on their epidermis that of right ought to grow on their pia mater.

Really, if this thing keeps on, and the theory of paternalistic government and monetary compensation for injury is held to be sound—quite a foregone conclusion—a brand new burden of taxation menaces the people.

They have been holding an exciting election in Manitoba to see whether beer shall be sold by the glass or the bottle. We know a few fellows in our town who would be glad even to get it in a tin can.

With her housekeeper on the sick list Mrs. Coolidge is no wacting in that capacity at the summer White House. This probably means that Cal will have to step around a little more lively.

The fellow who crosses the busy street without looking both ways is a close relative of the guy who pick up a wire to see whether or not it really is alive.

Uncle Sam closes the fiscal year with a surplus of $636,000,000 in the treasury, which isn't a bad little sum to have laid by for a rainy day.

We certainly do progress in some ways. It was only two or three years ago that it didn't matter if silk stockings had lisle tops.

Some of these days crossing the Atlantic by plane is going to be safer than walking down Broadway or crossing the loop in Chicago on foot.

Building booms come and go but there never seems to be any change in the construction of air castles.

FUNNY ONES

Irish "bulls" or witty sayings, always make interesting reading. Here are a few of the best gathered from a large collection:

Patrick, when he first landed in America, happened to see a locomotive go flashing by. He started back and yelled to his friend: "Will ye look at that! Of all the wonders I ever seen it beats them all. Sure it's a stamboat searchin' fer water!"

Another Irishman said: "I saw Pat Ryan the other side of the way. I thought it was Pat and Pat thought it was me, and when I came up, begorra, it was neither of us."

Another excused himself from going to church by saying he had such an excellent telescope that with it he could bring the church so near he could hear the organ playing.

It was Pat who observed, after watching two men shoot at an eagle and kill it, that they might have saved the powder and shot, as the fall alone would have killed the bird.

Another Irishman assigned as a reason for not putting out a fire in his kitchen with a kettle of boiling water that was near that it was hot water; and it was Pat's reply to a man who boasted that he had the smallest horse in the country, "Try me faith, I have wan as little as two of it."

Another one is told of a horse. Pat said he could leap over a ditch at least thirty feet wide; but, as Pat describes it, he did it in two jumps.

And it was Pat again who, telling a story as original, and being informed by one of his auditors that he had read it in the translation of a Latin work, cried out: "Confound those ancients! They are always stealing one's good thoughts."

WELL TO REMEMBER

What is good for one is not always good for another. This is illustrated in a short tale told some time ago about a French medical student. While in London on a visit the student lodged in the house with a man very sick with a fever, who was continually beseeched by his nurse to drink very nauseating liquids which were lukewarm. The sick man found this almost impossible to do, until one day he whispered to his nurse:

"Bring me a salt herring; I will drink as much as you please."

The woman indulged him in his request; he ate the herring, drank the liquids, underwent the required perspiration, and recovered.

The French student, thinking this very clever, inserted in his journal, "Salt herring cures an Englishman of fever."

On his return to France he prescribed the same remedy to his first patient with a fever. The patient died. On which he inserted in his journal: "N. B.—A salt herring cures an Englishman, but kills a Frenchman."

A WITTY DECISION

A food story is told of Dr. Arne, the composer of the English national hymn, "Rule, Britannia!" He was called upon one day to judge between two singers, neither of whom was worthy of a moment's consideration. After patiently hearing them, he said to one of the contestants:

"You are the worst singer I ever heard in my life."

"Ah!" cried the other, exultingly, "then I win?"

"No," said Dr. Arne. "You can't sing at all."

What Your FACE TELLS

©c.1927- by Betty Morrison PSYD.

Every individual seeks that thing that is in his heart and dreams of what he hopes to be. As he continues to seek and dream and hope nature stamps his dream upon his face and form. When we say man we mean women, too, for man embraces women.

This face and form has been stamped tall, slim and trim and is not likely to ever become stout.

His preponderant characteristics are endurance, courage and enthusiasm, with a systematic nature thrown in.

This is a man of force, an idealistic diplomat, steadfast in his purpose, one who stands upon principles and is calm, dauntless and self-possessed.

Statistics gathering is his sport. He is ever thirsting for scientific knowledge and must have cultured advantages.

He likes to analyze and systematize, always searching for the greater good and best in everything. Wastes no time on negative, non-essential things.

He is a natural born arbitrator who knows how to get close to the hearts of mankind. Has the gift of being a good listener, which causes people to confide in him and you need not be afraid to tell him your closest secrets.

He knows the frailties of humanity and would take liberties with no one.

He is serious in nature, enjoys solitude and doesn't care much for the opposite sex. If he has a desire to mate it will be a middle-aged affair and then often feels 't would been 'better to have loved than lost.'

He enjoys theoretical discussion, is ethical and hopeful and usually interested in social betterment movements. Can hold an audience spellbound for hours and use more big words than Shakespeare.

He has a tendency to carry the load of all his friends in his heart, silently fighting the other fellow's fight. He worries but is not troubled with self-pity.

This is the professional type man and would be happiest at teaching, research work, literary work, theology or any other vocation requiring philosophical thought or detailed work.

Tomorrow we will analyze the mechanical man.

Incorrect Eating May Be Cause Of Your 'Windburn'

By LADY BEATRICE GREY

"Can you tell me how to avoid windburn?" writes Mary B. from Westchester. "During the summer I do a great deal of driving and I find that after being out in the wind all day my skin burns. It is actually growing rough from outdoor weather. What can I do?"

If your complexion is very tender, windburn can become a real menace. Your skin is evidently tender and extremely susceptible to the wind. A pure cold cream, applied before you start and after you return, will help. Be sure the cream is mild and made of pure products or it will only aggravate the condition.

Even in hot weather you want to be sure that you do not hastily wash your face, forgetting to dry it thoroughly.

Remember, too, Mary B., that your complexion is the true barometer of your health. If your complexion is poor, you can be sure that your body is not functioning properly. If I were you, I would be sure that I was eating the proper foods which supply the tissues with the proper nourishment.

An ordinary healthy skin should not show a susceptibility to ordinary fresh air. Veils used to be worn in the naive decade when milady went driving in her coach and four, but the modern girl scorns such things. She should see that her skin is healthy and strong and she will not need to resort to such feminine weaknesses.

Questions concerning beauty building through physical culture will receive the personal attention of Lady Grey, beauty culturist, and should be signed by the writer's full name and address, which will not be used without permission. Address her, care of this newspaper.

When a Man Loves By ALICE LOTT MILES

Copyright 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc. John Barrymore in "WHEN A MAN LOVES" is a Warner Bros. Picture.

SYNOPSIS Fabien, a good and handsome youth of France, trains for the priesthood; but meets and loves Manon Lescaut, a beautiful orphan being taken to a convent by her rascally brother, who doesn't want to be bothered with her. Manon's brother, seeing Fabien, a rich, a noisier of women, smitten with her, realizes her worldly value and sells her to him. But Fabien escapes with her to Paris, where they wander into a boarding house and are put into the same room. Fabien goes out to buy food. Returning, he finds Manon has innocently undressed and gone to bed. He is tempted.

CHAPTER V—Continued Exhausted from the strain of this first fight with himself, Fabien sank into the big chair by the window and buried his burning head in his hands.

The storm outside became more furious. A blinding flash of lightning lit up the room. Fabien did not move.

A resounding clap of thunder awakened Manon, and with a terrified start she sat up in bed and looked wildly about. Sleep had been so sound and the awakening so sudden that she did not realize where she was. But when a second zig-zag of lightning opened the heavens and filled the room with light she saw Fabien and pushed over to him without a moment's thought or hesitation. Like a terrified child she threw herself into his arms and cuddled close—her face hidden against his shoulder to shut out the terrifying storm.

Fabien's face was white and strained, but when he had about conquered himself it was difficult

"Oh, you darling!" Manon rushed to him and snuggled impulsively into his arms. "Fabien, you must promise never to scold me for liking beautiful things, especially jewelry, for I adore it!"

"I shall never scold you, sweetheart. I, too, like beautiful things, and we shall have them—some day. In the meantime, do you suppose you could help me fix the lace in my cuffs?"

With his arm around Manon, Fabien led her to the window, where his coat was spread over a chair, disclosing a pair of badly soiled lace ruffles.

"They seem to be hopeless," said Manon sympathetically.

A whiff of wind blew the window curtain across the chair. The creamy lace net flouncing on the bright colored chintz seemed to offer itself as a solution to their problem. Quickly Manon tore off the bottom ruffle and fastened a fresh neat lace in each cuff. It was ingenious and they laughed happily at their success.

Back of them the door opened without warning and Marie unceremoniously burst into the room.

"The old lady says you got to dig up the rent," she announced without hesitation.

An empty purse forced Fabien to face stern reality. He wondered why the landlady insisted upon the rent being paid.

"Was it a streak of meanness?" Surely she did not need the money.

Manon's reaction to the demand was quite the opposite to Fabien's. To her it seemed funny for anyone to ask money from them. She could scarcely suppress her laughter.

Marie always wanted to smile when Manon laughed, but this was business. Besides, she hated Fabien as much as she liked his mistress, so she kept a straight face, and turning toward him belligerently she said: "Well, what about it? You've been here a week today."

"A whole week!" broke in Manon suddenly. "Fabien, today, then is our anniversary!"

A rueful nod was Fabien's only answer.

With upturned palm Marie continued to hold her ground, and her presence and demands so infuriated Fabien that he glared and said, "Get out!"

Knowing that this attitude would do no good, Manon rushed to the door and whirled the angry girl about just as she was ready to flounce from the room.

Marie had worshiped Manon since the first time she saw her in the hallway that rainy night, so it needed just a little coaxing and pleading for Manon to persuade her not to report to the landlady about the unpaid rent.

With one arm about Marie, Manon signalled for Fabien to leave the room. Marie was antagonized by his presence, and she could handle the situation better alone. Fabien interpreted the signal correctly and, greatly amused, gathered up his wraps and quickly departed, with a final kiss blown from his finger tips before he closed the door.

Marie looked after him in disgust, then back at Manon, appraisingly: "You are a silly little fool to waste your time on a pauper. With your looks you ought to be rolling in money—and you could if you set your mind to it."

But Manon shook her head and said, "I would never think of such a thing—we love each other."

Knowing the ways of pretty young women in Paris, Marie smiled wisely when she replied: "You'll come to it—Paris will teach you that diamonds give a lot more light than penny candles."

With a laughing shrug Manon dismissed the idea.

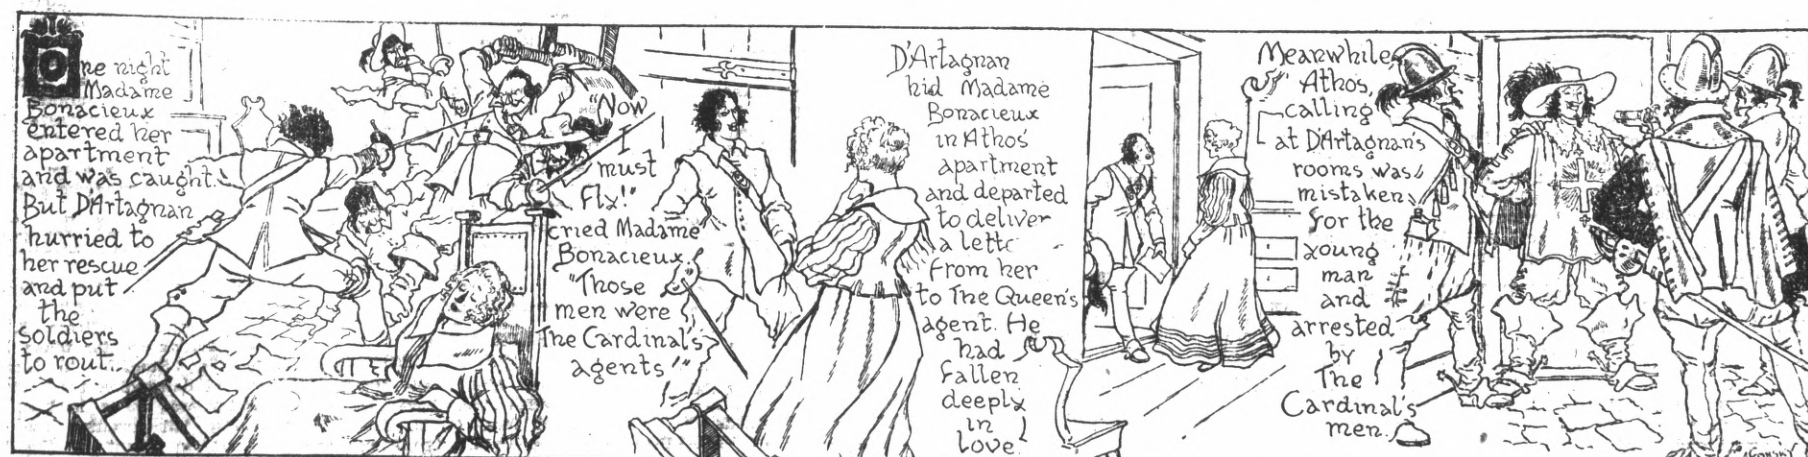

"Marie, come here," she coaxed. "I want you to do a very special favor for me—promise before I explain!"

"Well, yes, I'll do it. What is it?" It was impossible to refuse Manon anything, besides, there was a touch of mystery in this, and Marie loved mystery.

"I want you to take my locket, go to the first jewelry shop that you come to on the Boulevard and ask the owner to take it back in return for the gentleman's buckles that were left there a week ago. Can you remember that?"

History Of Church Missionary Work Told Society

The history of church missionary work was related at a meeting held by the Macdonald Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon at the church. Mrs. Carl Alexander, president of the organization, presided.

After Mrs. R. Bethers had opened the session with the devotion, Mrs. Henry Engleking delivered an interesting address on missionary work, from its beginnings in 1628 on the Mississippi down to the present day.

Miss Jessie Carey read a paper on young people's work of the church and then played a piano duet with Miss Carolyn Cole.

Hostesses for the meeting were the Mesdames Carl Alexander, Macintosh, Cavin and Leard.

WESLEY CIRCLE NO. 2 ENJOYS SOCIAL TIME

Circle No. 2 of the Wesley Methodist Church held its meeting at the home of Mrs. Cora Mounts, 2009 Nevins avenue. There was a good attendance and dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. Mounts was a delightful hostess. Plans were made for the dinner to be held by Circles No. 2 and No. 3 which will be held in the latter part of September. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Elston of 2340 Garvin avenue, August 24.

Soften Your Hands With Soap And Cereal Scraps

"How can I keep my hands soft and attractive?" This is a question that comes often to this department.

This is purely a modern problem, for modern hands are busy hands and must be given extra care and attention if they are to keep their childlike softness and their beautiful flexibility.

Back in Victorian times hands were soft because they were idle. In those days a lady did nothing to spoil or harden them. She might sit on a cushion and sew a fine seam, but that was usually the extent of her manual labor—and it was sure to be a soft and useless seam!

But today it is a rare thing to find a woman who does nothing. Even extremely rich women do things with their hands. If they don't do anything actually remunerative, they drive cars, play golf or tennis, raise chow or flowers—but they conserve the fineness of their hands by constant care.

In the most modern analysis, a lady is a woman who does things, yet who does not let her various tasks begrime or coarsen her hands. Hence, the modern problem of keeping the hands lovely.

Don't use harsh cleaners on your hands even if they are very soiled. Use bland and mild soaps and let your handbrush scrub off stubborn stains.

If dirt and grime still remain, after drying your hands, rub them full of pure cold cream and work into the skin to loosen the dirt. Then wash the hands again with soap and water and they will be soft and clean.

Many women whose hands are extremely sensitive and subject to dryness and roughness prefer almond meal instead of soap.

An old-fashioned remedy for dryness and roughness was to take all the little scraps and odds and ends of toilet soap cakes, and mix them with some bran and oatmeal to make a thick paste to be used instead of soap for washing the hands.

Court Sentences Murderer To Lifetime Of Supporting Wife And Children Of Victim

PARIS, July 28.—There are many ways of punishing murder. There is a new way. The Court of Assizes of the Seine has just decided that a slayer must support the orphan of the man he killed.

Luigi Fiorino, an Italian hotel owner, killed Joseph Piton in an argument over the sale of his hotel last July. Piton left two children and parents depending on him.

The court sentenced Fiorino to a year in prison and ordered that he pay 50,000 francs damages to the parents and give an annual income of 2,500 francs to each of the two children until their majority. The claim of self defense saved him from a more severe sentence.

There are ghosts in Brittany. Nightly prayers are being said in the little village of Plougazel for the soul of Jean Louis L'Hopital, an old fisherman who died in 1922. The inhabitants are certain that his ghost has returned to the house where he lived before his death.

Strange noises have been heard in the night, voices, whistles of air and even dogs have moved mysteriously through the air, according to the inhabitants. But since prayers for the old fisherman have been said, the disturbances have ceased.

A MUSICAL WEIGHT

A general negro was being loaded into a vessel, the captain of which made a hobby of working himself into an apoplectic fit as sailing time drew near.

A piano had to be shipped and it had reached the bottom of the hold when the chief mate yelled to the man in charge of the winch to "heave up."

The captain immediately got excited. "Do you want to be in this darn place all day?" he roared. "No," replied the mate, "but there happens to be a man under that piano and I thought he might like it lifted off him."

THE SAILOR'S JONAH
"Yes sir," said the old sailor spinning a yarn. "One morning the lookout yelled, 'Chief mate blow, and when we looked there lay a whale dead ahead of us.'"

"And how long had he been dead?" queried the innocent bystander. "Louisville Satyr."

Dame Fashion Decrees Knee Length Coats

(By Universal Service)
CHICAGO, July 27.—Milady won't be warm about the knees this winter, judging from the elegant fur coats for next season exhibited today in the sixth annual $100,000 fur show here. But she will be stylish.

For Dame Fashion, whoever she is, has decreed that fur coats are to reach only to the knees.

Even the "kneecaps" to be worn with the coats, will add nothing to comfort, if a lot to style, for they are of metal or rhinestone and are worn just below the knees.

Yet while the coats are short as to their length, they are decidedly long as to luxury.

Some of the combinations include gold and silver metal cloth, and brocades. Gold is the popular color tone of the pelts.

One which attracted the oh's and ah's of Chicago flappers and their mothers was a gold-toned caracul trimmed with fox of the same golden shade with a sash of gold metal cloth.

Another was a Russian ermine wrap, with Queen Anne collar and puffy sleeves to harmonize, the whole enhanced with rows of ermine tails.

The "kneecaps" attracted widespread attention. Some of them are made to hold a watch.

A feature of the show was the parade of twenty manikins down Chicago's fashionable Wacker Drive Boulevard. The twenty exhibited fur coats, which, despite the humid heat, were given much more than the proverbial once-over.

"Why are you crying?" little boy.

"I drank some cider now and found my way home."

"Well, you mustn't take it so hard, Rutgers' Chancellor."

Realtor Chief Stresses Fair Dealing In Business Dealings

of this state pointing out that is one year only three percent of the real estate men are complained against. Free lot selling schemes were frowned on by the commissioner who stated that brokers who used this method may be deprived of their licenses.

Brokers who are selling agricultural lands and making claims of future advancement in price and production from the land will be questioned, Barnson said.

Expectations in this department will determine if the claims are true, and if the dealers will be asked to discontinue such statements. Barnson aims to protect the public by this method.

More stringent examinations for salesmen and brokers who desire to operate in California are favored by Barnson, who wants stricter examinations than are already provided for. In order to issue a permit for these men to operate, the commissioner would have a board of three members compile an examination which would seriously question the moral responsibility of the future salesmen.

Barnson pointed that the real estate business was evolving into a profession, and that adequate education was necessary for those who wished to enter the field. For this reason he recommended that all salesmen and brokers attend conventions of real estate men and become better informed as to the economics of the business.

The commissioner is accompanying a delegation of southern California real estate men to the coming national convention in Seattle. The Contra Costa real estate board appointed A. L. Paulsen and M. H. Hays of Richmond and "Cappy" C. A. Ricks of Martinez to represent the board at the convention. A motor caravan of delegates stopped at Richmond and attended the meeting with the commissioner.

Mayor Mattie Chandler extended a welcome to the visitors, and in questioning the advancement of Richmond, asked the support of the coming bond issue. Fred Parr emphasized the point made by the Mayor, and affirmed that Richmond was making a new start toward becoming an industrial center. Harry Knight of the Oakland real estate board invited

Mimic Air Raids On London Evidence Efficacy Of Plane

LONDON, July 27.—London has been virtually "bombed out of existence" this week during the mimic warfare which has been carried on by the Royal Air Forces to test the city's defenses.

Twenty-eight "raids" were made on the capital last night, and while sixteen of the machines were spotted by searchlights, the remaining twelve broke through and rained imaginary bombs on various districts of the capital.

Although the maneuvers are not yet completed, it has already been established that enemy air forces could destroy London and strengthen the defenses.

Dean Inge, tonight, lamenting the necessity for such maneuvers designed for the protection of non-combatants in war, says:

"There is one diabolical government, that of Russia, which would not shrink for a moment from asserting three quarters of the population of Europe if the remaining twenty-five per cent could be subjected to the same miseries they have inflicted on their own people.

The bitter truth must be spoken that until this nest of hornets has been smoked out of its nest in Europe will be quite impossible."

Martin Held For Federal Inquiry

A man being sought by the government on a charge of impersonating an officer.

He was fined $10 by Judge Frank Glass on a charge of defrauding an insurer.

Questioned by Chief of Police Charles Scudero and Deputy Sheriff Duke Joslin, Martin was able to explain his presence at the Pittsburgh hotel satisfactorily but when Deputy Sheriff Ralph Harrison picked up a circular at a sheriff's office yesterday he was confronted with new difficulties.

Believing that Martin answers the description of one James C. Bell, wanted by the government for posing as an aviator, the deputy communicated with the Department of Justice with the result that Martin was held. Martin questioned by Harrison, denied that he was accompanied by a woman, he was attired in an aviator's uniform. Officers located Martin's wife in Stockton.

KIWANIS-LIONS BALL GAME ON TAP FOR TODAY

Dr. Root and I will struggle down to the very end of conflict and settle the question of who's who in a half hour."

Another evidence of the crafty workman of the Kiwanis mind is shown in information gathered in an authoritative source to the effect that the Kiwanis club will combine with the game an energetic membership campaign.

Quicker Shown

"High school boys who look as if they know the difference between their own federal and some other Kiwanis' after the weekly luncheon, will appear prominently in our lineup," declared a well-known Kiwanian.

Every evidence of preparation for the impending battle is shown by the Lions. Only a Willson and Kratzer ambulance is looking to give indication that a bloody carnage with the old shillalah is in prospect.

Two For Every Position

Two men are provided for every position, and there are enough substitutes to raise the total to three.

"We're taking no chances," Clint Smith stated decisively. "That Kiwanis club is a deadly bunch, and you never can tell what they might do with all those loose balls lying around the field. We have one mahogany clunker that is guaranteed to last through anything, however, so we're not apprehensive."

Lions' Lineup

The Lions' lineup is as follows: Bob Smith, Clint Smith—catchers; John Miller, Art Paris—pitchers; Knoch Nylander, Guy Milnes—first base; Dr. G. A. Bohmer, Tom Morgan—shortstop; Louis Burke, Claude Clarke—second base; Tom Carlson, N. M. A shopkeeper in the principal street told me yesterday "No woman will have green now, they think it is unlucky."

On the other hand, blue is the paint made here in the lowest shades, and red and brown the most numerous.

Shades of rose are the most popular with girls.

They are worn seldom here, softer goods being much preferred.

A big effort is being made by church and leaders to popularize fresh tweeds and woollens. President Cosgrave's house is all furnished with Irish manufactured goods. Irish sugar is now being sold everywhere at the same price as foreign.

'Alimony Club' Extends Hand Of Fellowship To Martyrs

CHICAGO, July 27.—The Chicago Alimony club tonight moved to extend the hand of fellowship to victims of unhappy wedlock throughout the nation.

By Vernon P. Cooley, President of the local organization, said after tonight's meeting that the club would work in close cooperation with the New York club and expected to extend its activities to every part of the country.

Membership, in fact, is to be unlimited.

"We just learned there are between 15,000 and 16,000 alimony payers in Baltimore alone," Dr. Cooley said. "We received a letter from a Baltimore representative of those who pay alimony there saying they would organize and cooperate in stamping it out."

The local club adjourned tonight to meet two weeks hence. A committee was appointed to study by laws and select a name. "Alimony Club" will not be used at a title, it was decided.

There is the objection of the organization as outlined by Dr. Cooley tonight:

1. The preservation of the American home which is being undermined by slyster lawyers; effect reconciliation if at all possible, between husband and wife.
2. To protect children involved in divorce cases. Women not allowed to be guardians.
3. Children should not be used for the purpose of securing excessive alimony.
4. Eliminate imprisonment for debt. Criminals, murderers are permitted to go free, but alimony payers must stay in jail for non-payment of alimony sometimes to immoral women; fail not accepted, believe, because of seriousness of offense.
5. Prevent fraud, perjury, blackmail, conspiracy and extortion as are now practiced in domestic litigation.
6. Men should have the same rights to be heard in court as women only now enjoy.
7. Eliminate prosecution of innocent men in our courts of so-called justice.
8. Eliminate the premium placed upon adultery by our courts, often fraudulent decrees given on perjured testimony.

ALL STANDARDS LOSE TO BARREL HOUSE

R. FITZGERALD HOMES TO WIN IN 9TH INNING

HOW THEY STAND

Barrel House	9	3	750
Refinery	7	6	538
Mechanics	6	7	462
All Standards	3	9	250

The Barrel House tossers, 1927 champions of the Standard Oil league, and the All Standards, cellar champions of the same circuit, hooked up in their second extra-inning game of the year yesterday afternoon at the First street ball park.

Fully five games behind the league-leading Barrel House aggregation the All Standards figured to be easy for Willis Butters men. Such was not the case, however, the cellarites losing after nine of the hardest-fought innings in the history of the league.

Second Tie Game

The two clubs had previously played a nine-inning tie the middle of last month in a great pitching duel between Roland Roberts and Lefty Cothran. The final score in that encounter was 3 to 3.

Entering the ninth inning of yesterday's game, all indications pointed to another deadlock contest. But a home run off the bat of Ray Fitzgerald with Ernie Peters on base gave the Barrel House a 4 to 2 victory and an unquestioned right to the 1927 title.

Ray Fitzgerald Stars

Incidentally, Ray Fitzgerald was the biggest star of the contest, breaking up the affair with a long home run and playing a spectacular game in the field. The big outfielder is without a doubt the most improved player in the league since the opening of the season. Ray will never break any of Charley Paddock's sprint records but somehow or other he manages to get there just the same. Yesterday he made long runs to rob Huzefka and Roberts out of hits, in addition to delivering the winning base hit—a homer over the right center field fence.

Home Runs Win

Home runs were entirely responsible for Roland Roberts' downfall, the Barrel House nine making all four of its runs by means of circuit blows. Billy Yore, Paris Buttischach and Ray Fitzgerald were the boys that slugged the pellet out of the lot, the latter's drive coming with Ernie Peters on first.

It was a tough game for Pat Transue's men to lose, yet a great one for Butters' tossers to cop. The contest proved two things—one, that the All Standards have a first-rate ball club that might have finished on top had it had another pitcher or two to relieve Roberts, the hardest-working chucker in the league; second, that the Barrel House club has attained the championship by means of hard hitting, air-tight fielding, steady pitching and hustling work in the field.

Wagy Bill Held Up By Petitions

SACRAMENTO, July 28.—Referendum proceedings initiated by the truck owners of California today held up the Wagy truck weight tax bill on the eve of the day when the law becomes effective.

Frank C. Jordan, secretary of state, announced that petitions containing 66,601 signatures against the bill have been received by him.

The Wagy weight tax measure which was passed at the last legislature, goes into effect tomorrow with the 3-cent gasoline tax.

A number of the petitions were being investigated today by J. P. Hall, representing the state highway commission, prior to a meeting of the commission today in Sacramento. Irregularities are said to have been found in some of the petitions.

England Declares Self Through With Soviet Government

LONDON, July 28.—Diplomatically speaking, Great Britain is through with Soviet Russia. Speaking in Commons today, Foreign Secretary Sir Austen Chamberlain said:

"We can not restore diplomatic relations with a country which ignores all courtesies and decencies of international life."

"Trade may go on, however, we have no intention of pushing our differences with Russia further."

Books, like proverbs, receive their chief value from the stamp and esteem of ages through which they have passed.—Temple.

10,000 SIOUX REDSKINS WILL FETE COOLIDGE

RAPID CITY, S. D., July 28.—Ten thousand Sioux Indians, with all the panoply of their ancient traditions, will parade before President Coolidge at the Pine Ridge Reservation, 100 miles from here, on August 17, in the most remarkable demonstration since the great Sioux nation was conquered by the invasion of the whites.

President Coolidge today accepted the invitation which will enable them to pay honor to the Great White Father in accordance with their own solemn custom.

In accepting the invitation, President Coolidge was acquainted with two great issues which confront the tribe and involve him. The Sioux, the greatest and ever brought by a ward of the government, have acquired the right to sue the United States for seven hundred and fifty million dollars. Power to enter the suit has been granted them by Congress.

They claim complete ownership of the beautiful and rich Black Hills, in which the President has located his Summer White House. Realizing their inability to regain the land which has been so steadily settled by the whites in the past fifty years, the Sioux assert they should now be paid a fair value for it, plus a value upon the precious metals, including more than three hundred million dollars in gold, that have been taken from the hills. They desire to interest the President in the justice of their claims.

President Coolidge is also informed that the Sioux are engaged in a statey wrangle over the induction of him into their historic tribe. Chief Yellowlegs, grand nephew of Sitting Bull, has decided to confer the tribal honors upon the President at the close of the seventy-sixth celebration in Deadwood next week, but the Sioux council claims that robe, while a great honor, is no longer a reservation Indian and that the ceremonies should be performed only upon "the Indian's property."

Congressman Williamson today was engaged upon a compromise plan which would enable varying degrees to be conferred upon the President both at Deadwood and at Pine Ridge.

THE VALUE OF DIMES

Dimes and nickels are thoughtlessly spent every day by a multitude of people who think they are of such small value that they will not be missed.

And yet, these same coins built the Woolworth Building in New York, one of the largest buildings in the world.

It demonstrates what can be done by uniting these small coins. You can build a Savings Account in the same way. And you will be surprised how quickly it will grow by adding to it often, even tho the amounts are small.

Garden Party Of War Mothers Is Huge Success

A varied program of entertainment and contest drew a very large crowd to the garden party of the War Mothers yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. W. Bradbury at 418 Bissell avenue. Miss Ruth Bradbury told fortunes from an attractive booth.

Robin Hood was outclassed in the archery contest won by Walter Bradbury, Jr. and Frank Meredith. The door prize, a boudoir pillow, was won by Mrs. Nina Vickery. Frank Bradbury is now the possessor of a butterfly quilt as his winnings.

The musical program of the afternoon was presented by Mrs. James Stewart and Mrs. Violet Williams. Mrs. Stewart's two solos were, "Annie Laurie," and "Sylvia." Mrs. Williams rendered "Mother Macree," and "Under the Rainbow Trail."

Quite a number of the guests played whist with the following winners in order: Mrs. Maude Pascall, Mrs. A. Leebur, Mrs. Anna Cheatum, Mrs. Smiley, Mrs. C. Henson, Miss Belle Simpson, Mrs. W. Whelan, Mrs. Nina Vickery, and Mrs. Waterhouse.

The hostess, Mrs. Bradbury, decorated her home in keeping with occasion. Flowers and bunting were used. The proceeds of the party will go into the general fund of the War Mothers, and will directly help the construction of a memorial fountain in Memorial park.

4 C. C. School Districts To Be Dropped

Four Contra Costa school districts, Dear Valley, Sand Mound, Morgan Territory and Vasco, are soon to be suspended because for the last year their daily school attendance has dropped to five or less pupils. Request for the suspension of the districts will board of supervisors at its next meeting.

The suspension of the districts will be effective for a year. If at that time the districts lack a sufficient number of students to maintain a school they will be permanently abolished. Students now residing in the district will be enrolled in adjoining districts.

you until you fire the committee and you are using as a mouth-piece."

After the conference Mrs. McPherson issued a statement indicating her belief that her mother is on the verge of a mental and physical breakdown.

Mother Inlamed

"It wasn't my mother speaking, she dear mother I remember, but one of an inflamed mind and a tired brain," the evangelist said.

"The trouble with mother is that her mind is tired. She is under a terrific mental strain."

Mrs. McPherson said her mother had denied saying the "terrible things" ascribed to her.

In an exchange of letters by mother and daughter, Mrs. Kennedy wrote she had been disgraced. Mrs. McPherson replied, saying her heart is broken.

Mrs. Kennedy wrote she had been informed her daughter's temple committee is "inflaming mob spirit." She declared she has nothing but love for her daughter in her heart.

Mrs. McPherson's reply said in part:

Amie Prostrate.

"My heart is broken. I have hardly had my head off the pillows today, and dictating this to you with the stenographer sitting on the foot of my bed."

"I just feel as though the world had collapsed in up on me. Oh, mother, what has happened to your heart? How could you do this to me?"

Mrs. McPherson assured her mother she will ever "love her dearly."

L. A. Man Gives Views On Plans For Harbor

Details of the harbor improvements planned for the Richmond harbor by Fred Parr were commented upon yesterday by George F. Nicholson, harbor engineer of the board of harbor commissioners of Los Angeles.

Nicholson, who arrived here yesterday as a result of an invitation extended by Parr to go over the harbor situation, said:

"A 400-foot channel, such as that aimed at by your plans for harbor improvements under the proposed bond issue, should be regarded as the minimum for a harbor of any importance."

"My experience has been that in attempt to put traffic of any size through a 200-foot channel, such as you now have, is bound to cause dissatisfaction and loss of business. In Los Angeles we had to use a 200-foot channel for certain oil business in one part of the harbor. As a result a tanker ran aground and brought us unpleasant complaints from both the skipper and the boat owners."

"Another thing I see about Richmond," said Nicholson, "is the cheapness of your industrial lands. Acreage for industrial purposes in Los Angeles ranges from $3,500 to $5,000 per acre depending on location."

30 KILLED AS LAKE STEAMER TAKES PLUNGE

(By Universal Service)

CHICAGO, July 28.—The excursion boat Favorite capsized in a storm on Lake Michigan late today. The lives of thirty passengers are believed to have been lost.

The boat, a two-deck, gasoline engine driven craft, was plying between Lincoln Park and the Municipal pier when storm struck her.

Capt. Arthur Olson estimated that he had 150 passengers on board. Most of them were women and children.

Seventeen bodies had been recovered at 7 o'clock tonight and 20 were missing.

An effort was being made tonight to raise the hulk.

Rescuers estimated that a final check would show between 25 and 30 dead.

The storm developed with great suddenness and fury. It came toward the close of a sweltering day that found thousands of women and children in the parks, on the beaches or abroad small boats in hope of escaping the stifling heat.

The Favorite took on its load at the Municipal pier, a great dock that extends a mile out into the lake and is the mecca for thousands during the hot summer days. It was headed for the Lincoln Park landing, three miles up the shore line.
